

Comparison Functions

This category encompasses standard comparison operations, such as greater than and less than, and a set of functions to evaluate the presence of values within nested data.