

group Parameter

Identifies the column by which the dataset is grouped for purposes of applying the transform.

NOTE: Transforms that use the `group` parameter can result in non-deterministic re-ordering in the data grid. However, you should apply the `group` parameter, particularly on larger datasets, or your job may run out of memory and fail. To enforce row ordering, you can use the `sort` transform. For more information, see Sort Transform.