Plans and pricing:

From the list of available plans, you can select the number of users to enable in your workspace. Based on your selection, you can see the monthly or annual costs of the plan. Plans are priced based on the following factors:

- Product edition. For more information, see Product Editions.
 - For more information on differences between product editions, see Product Limitations.
- Number of users
- vCPU consumption (quoted on an hourly basis)

NOTE: vCPU time is consumed by running jobs, which can include sampling jobs, on Trifacta Photon, Spark, or other connected running environment. Rates apply to running jobs via API, too.

Tip: Annual subscriptions receive a discount compared to monthly subscriptions. Click the tabs at the top of the page to see the differences.
